Super Bock Super Rock returns to Meco this year, to an idyllic and unique atmosphere, next to the beach with a vast camping site to complete the experience, where the bodies will surrender to music. On July 18, 19 and 20, some of the best music in the world will be here - Lana Del Rey, Metronomy, The 1975 and Kaytranada are some of the confirmations for this edition. Authenticity unites all of these names and electronic music won't be left behind. Disclosure are one of the best examples of originality, as they have proved in the last few years, and their presence is already confirmed in the next edition of Super Bock Super Rock, on July 20, 2019.

DISCLOSURE DJ SET

When we speak of the last decade in house music, we must necessarily speak of Howard and Guy Lawrence, the two brothers who sign Disclosure. Coming from a family of musicians, the two brothers learned to play the bass and the drums but quickly fell in love with electronic sounds and rhythms such as funk, hip-hop or dubstep, influences that would complement their study of classical composers such as Bach or Claude Debussy.

Influenced by artists like Joy Orbison, James Blake, Burial or Mount Kimbie, Disclosure's success is linked to a rare sensitivity to read each dance floor, using an encyclopaedic knowledge of electronic music's history.

Thereby, each Disclosure set is not only a celebration of life and its multiple colours but also a celebration of an entire culture - they create space for Chicago House, Detroit Techno, UK Garage, 2-Step Garage... After a small break in their production, Disclosure came back in 2018 with the release of some singles like "Ultimatum" or "Moonlight".

They're in shape and will show it off on the DJ Set they're preparing for the Super Bock Stage, on July 20, 2019, in the next edition of Super Bock Super Rock.
